Scanning the Horizon: The Future of Higher Education and Nursing

Deborah Trautman, PhD, RN, FAAN

Tuesday, October 18 | 4:00 pm | Signe Skott Cooper Hall | University of Wisconsin-Madison
Today's healthcare delivery system offers new opportunities for nurses to step forward and lead change. As the nation looks for visionaries to improve health and healthcare, nurses must be equipped with the knowledge and savvy to be leaders within the provider team.

Dr. Deborah Trautman, President and CEO of the American Association of Colleges of Nursing, will discuss application of leadership concepts in current and future health care environments and the role of education in re-envisioning how nurses are prepared for contemporary care settings. In particular, Dr. Trautman will address the AACN's most recent report, Advancing Healthcare Transformation: A New Era for Academic Nursing.

Dr. Trautman's presentation, followed by audience Q&A, will be of interest to nurse educators, nurse executives, health professions leaders and nursing students pursuing leadership positions. Following the lecture, please join us for appetizers, beverages and conversations.

Register for the lecture and reception at:
go.wisc.edu/872myu

To support this ongoing lecture series, consider making a gift to the Littlefield Leadership Lecture fund, visit go.wisc.edu/p325n6